Faub.org Creative Aid & Pleasure Club Announces Launch Party

New Orleans, LA 10/04/07 A local non-profit group made up of progressive working artists, designers, and developers is celebrating its launch party, open to the creative and technology public.

Faub.org is an independent community group focused on fostering and sustaining critical cultural energy in post-Katrina New Orleans.

Celebrate with Faub.org founders and friends at 7pm on Saturday, November 3rd at Barrister's Gallery. DJs Brice Nice and Joey Buttons will spin into the night, and the multimedia piece Psssst. Pass It On from Bran Dougherty-Johnson of Grow Design Work will be featured. Food and drinks to be served, though BYOB is encouraged.

For additional information on Faub.org or the November 3rd Launch Party, contact info@faub.org or visit www.faub.org.

ABOUT FAUB.ORG Faub.org is a group dedicated to preserving, fostering and unifying our singular creative voice and heritage, pushing our culture forward in new and progressive ways.

Derived from Faubourg, Faub.org is an independent sanctuary where ideas are shared and work is created.
